

FERPA

The Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974 guarantees each student the right to know what information the College maintains about the individual students and the right to ensure the accuracy of that information. A copy of the written institutional policy may be obtained from the Registrar's Office.

PRIVACY- University of Saint Katherine informs students annually through the Student Handbook of the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) of 1974, as amended. This act, with which the institution intends to comply fully, was designed to protect the privacy of education records, to establish the right of students to inspect and review their education records, to provide the guidelines for the correction of inaccurate or misleading data through informal and formal hearings, and to establish guidelines for the release of or access to student records. Students also have the right to file complaints with the Family Education Rights and Privacy Act Office (FERPA) concerning alleged failures by the institution to comply with the act.
